U of T Budget Report
- 2022-23 Balanced Budget
  - Tuition and fees make up bulk of revenues
  - Faculty and staff compensation make up bulk of expenditures
- Budgetary Impacts of COVID-19
  - Worst impacts felt by ancillaries
    - Food, residence, parking, etc.
    - UC residences have started to rebound with higher occupancy this year in comparison to last year
    - Food and transportation services feeling most negative impacts across institution
- Compensation
  - Costs are growing, but Bill 124 has imposed some restraints, which has slowed growth of costs
- Provincial Tuition Fee Framework
  - Tuition reduction and freeze imposed by provincial government
    - Unsure of 2022-23 tuition fee framework, but institution operating under assumption that freeze will continue
  - Institution is considering imposing differential fees for out-of-province students
- Change in Sources of Revenue
  - International tuition revenue has become significant source of revenue for institution
  - Domestic tuition has become less significant due to provincial reduction and freeze
  - Government funding steadily declining in significance
- Undergraduate Enrolment Results
  - Enrolment this year is slightly below target at St. George campus
    - Both domestic and international
- Planned International Share of Total Undergraduate Enrolment
  - Institution slowing growth on international enrolment
- Provincial Fee Framework and OSAP Changes
  - Undergraduate OSAP participation rates are lower
    - Due to reduced tuition fees and changes in provincial OSAP criteria over last few years which assumes a larger contribution from parents and a maximum household income of $140,000
- Student Aid Expenditures
  - U of T continues to provide financial aid to students in need
Student aid expenditures at U of T above average in comparison to other Canadian institutions
- Colleges actively contribute to financial aid

Student Debt Load 2015-2021 (of those with OSAP Debt)
- Lower student debt loads each year, in part due to tuition freeze and reduction
- Notable that 56% of direct entry U of T students graduate with no student debt

Budget Priority: Students
- Institutional priorities: mental health, enriching learning, built environment, student support
- Have been actively working with Registrar, Ryan Woolfrey, to advocate for funding UC’s student services and student advising services
  - Central funding received, direct and positive bearings for UC

Budget Priority: Shared Services
- Institutional priorities: supporting student success, power innovation & entrepreneurship, infrastructure, building inclusive cities & societies
- College has benefitted from centrally provided funds for student success

International Scholarship Programs
- Institution plans to ramp up international scholarship programs
- Both in attempt to reinvest international tuition revenue to international students’ benefit and in recognition of need to diversify international student body

International Students by Geographic Region
- Need to diversify international student body
  - Risk management in case of sudden drop of enrolment
  - Diversity as core value of institution

Question: Is the statistic of 56% of direct entry U of T students graduating with no OSAP debt calculated including those with zero debt? If so, the number of zeros in the calculation significantly skews the numbers and means that many students have at least double the average debt indicated on the slide.

Response: Unsure how the calculation was made.

Question: At what stage is the discussion about out-of-province student fees? Is this being considered at other Ontario universities?

Response: Unclear, likely dependent on provincial government’s decision about tuition freeze. U of T has a pattern of aligning with other Ontario universities in the past, but do not have any further information.

III. Update from the Chief Administrative Officer, Yvonne MacNeil
(Presentation attached – Appendix 2)

Financials
- UC Budget 2019-20 through 2022-23
  - Working to stabilize Faculty of Arts & Science (FAS) base budget with One-Time-Only (OTO) funding from FAS, designated trusts, recoveries from others and support from Ancillary Operations
    - Each year following these transfers, left with a shortfall that needs to be recovered from own college discretionary funds
      - Discretionary funds include various trusts/donations etc.
      - Not sustainable
    - From 2014-15 – 2018-19 discretionary recovery ran from $450K to $550K
    - Reduced final discretionary amount to $145K for 2022-23
  - Past two years have been difficult, were unable to get full support usually obtained from UC’s Ancillary Operations
    - Ancillary business has suffered most during pandemic
- UC Budget Breakdown
  - Base Budget
    - Has increased each year
    - Considers all salary increases for faculty, staff, and students, increases in FTE, i.e. full and part-time appointments, both faculty and staff
    - Have established a base for OTO which allows budgeting for approximate 250-275K each year at budget submission, instead of waiting until summer when OTO submissions are approved
  - Total Expenses
    - Fluctuations due to changes in activities due to COVID-19 pandemic
    - Expenses up again for 2022-23 in anticipation of people and programs being able to plan and participate in more activities
    - Also included in Total Expenses are short-term faculty appointments such as CLTAs, and other shared appointments
      - These will not create increase in base budget, but these expenses would be recovered in Designated Trust/Other
  - Designated Trusts and Other
    - Includes trust accounts that are attached to programs, salary lines, or course teaching, as well as recoveries from other departments
  - Ancillary Overhead and Support
    - Consists of support received in salary recoveries and college support from both food services and residence services
    - Stable amount annually
      - Over past two years, not able to receive these amounts fully
  - Other Discretionary Funds
    - Funds that must be pulled from various discretionary funds, space rentals, donations, etc.
      - Not a sustainable way to round out budget, have worked to reduce this variable
- Residence and Food Ancillary Budget 2019-20 through 2022-23
  - Ancillary operations across campus have been most severely hit by pandemic
  - Refunds to students for room and board cost Ancillary $1.3M
    - 2019-20 and 2020-21 show losses
Budget for both Residence and Food Ancillaries 2021-22 was very conservative as unsure of occupancy in September 2021
- Had almost 80% occupancy
- Current forecast for end of 2022 is in the black, far better than anticipated losses that could have been incurred with 1/3 occupancy rate

Summer business affects both Residence and Food Ancillaries and has been somewhat suspended since start of pandemic

Food Services will take slightly longer to recover
- UC Food Services relies on student board plans, catering, cash sales, and summer business for sources of income
  - Catering and cash sales especially suffered during pandemic
- Budgeted conservatively due to being unsure about number of people returning to campus and on ability to begin catering services again
- Anticipate that once new spaces can open, catering services will increase significantly
- Opening of Owlerly Café on third floor to supplement cash sales

Unrestricted Surplus/Deficit
- Will see gradual climb for Residence budget over 2022-23
- Forecasting that Food Services will rebuild reserves to pre-pandemic levels over next 3-5 years
- Food Services across campus experiencing similar deficits and working to build back customers, income, and reserves

Question: Do we have a projected timeline for when we will be able to do catered events?

Response: Decisions made centrally on a weekly basis. Physical distancing and capacity restrictions have been removed. There are still restrictions around food at events, must maintain 2m distance when eating. More information to be released next week. Suspect that remaining restrictions will gradually lift over the summer.

I. CATEGORIES OF APPOINTMENT

A. Regular Members
Defined formally in Section II.2 in the UC Constitution, regular members of the College are members of the teaching staff of the University appointed or cross-appointed to the College, normally members of the full-time teaching staff of the Faculty of Arts & Science. They are eligible to serve as voting members of College Council and may be assigned an office in the College (subject to office availability and if they do not have an office elsewhere). They are automatically members of the Senior Common Room.

B. Retired Members
Retired members are Regular Members of University College who have retired. They are eligible to participate in the business of the College including Council committees, but are not eligible to sit on College Council. They are entitled to space in the UC Emeritus Professors Room, but are not eligible for private office space at the College. Retired Members retain Senior Common Room privileges.

C. Graduate Members
Graduate members are graduate students of the University who are registered in college affiliated or sponsored graduate programs, graduate students who are Dons in the College residences, or graduate students who have been nominated as members of the college and approved by the appointments committee. They are eligible to participate in the business of the College including Council committees. When graduate space is designated in the college they are eligible for shared space therein. They are members of the Senior Common Room and the Graduate Common Room.

D. Other Academic Appointees
Defined in section II-3 of the UC constitution, Other Academic Appointees are academic appointees with less than 50% time appointments or Sessional lecturers involved in the delivery of UC programs nominated as members of the college and approved by the appointments committee. They are not entitled to office space in the college. They are automatically members of the Senior Common Room.

II. CRITERIA OF APPOINTMENT

In assessing nominations for College membership the Appointments Committee will take into consideration the nominee’s

(a) commitment to the principles of equity, diversity, inclusion and accessibility;
(b) demonstrated interest in undergraduate education and undergraduate students;
(c) desire to contribute to the diverse intellectual and social life of the College;
(d) preparedness to help foster, where possible, the University College academic programs.

The Appointments Committee seeks to enhance the diversity of the University College community so as to ensure an equitable, inclusive, and varied workplace that is welcoming to people of all backgrounds. Further, it seeks to cross-appoint members from a broad range of disciplines, recognizing the need for clustering and overlapping of interests while not wanting any particular discipline group to predominate.

III. RESPONSIBILITIES OF COLLEGE MEMBERS

Regular members will be expected, at a minimum, to
(a) participate actively in College life;
(b) make regular use of their College offices, if they have one,
(c) be prepared to make themselves available to University College students for informal consultation;
(d) give SCR talks, and, if appropriate to their areas of interest, to assist the Program Directors of University College programs;
(e) teach their undergraduate classes within the College precinct wherever possible;
(f) serve on at least one College Committee when not on leave, and be prepared to take a regular turn as a faculty representative on College Council.

IV. PROCEDURES

A. New Appointments
1. Appointments in all categories will be made by the Principal, upon the recommendation of the College Appointments Committee and with the consent of the appropriate Department.
2. Appointments of Regular members will be for an initial term of three years.

B. Renewal of Appointments
1. Regular members and Other Academic Appointees: At the conclusion of the initial term of a Regular member, the appointment will be reviewed by the Appointments Committee. After considering the member’s contribution to College life, and after consulting with the Department, the Committee may recommend to the Principal that the appointment be renewed for a further term (normally 5 years), or that it not be renewed. Subsequent renewals will follow the same procedure.
   Note: As of 2004-5, all faculty cross-appointments are on a term basis with a review at the end of a fixed period. Continuing appointments made prior to 2004-5 will remain as Continuing appointments.
2. Graduate member appointments last through the term of a graduate student’s registration in a college sponsored or affiliated program, affiliation with the residences of UC, or registration at the University. They are not subject to regular renewal processes.

C. Cancellation
In exceptional circumstances, a holder of College membership may have his or her appointment cancelled by the Principal on the recommendation of the Appointments Committee. Before such an action is taken, the member will be afforded the opportunity to make representations on the matter to the Principal. A Continuing appointment may be reviewed by the Appointments Committee at any time for good reason.

D. Absence from the College
If Regular members holding an office in the College must withdraw from College life for an extended period of time, because of an extended leave, for example or an administrative position that requires their principal office be outside the College, they may be asked to give up their College office or to share it in their absence. If their College appointment is still in effect when they return, and if they intend to engage actively in College life once more, every effort will be made to relocate them in the College as soon as possible.

V. SENIOR COMMON ROOM

A. The Principal may confer Senior Common Room privileges on any member of the University or of the community at large. Senior Common Room membership does not entail eligibility for College Council nor any of the responsibilities outlined in Section I.A. Senior Common Room memberships will be for a limited term, though renewable. Any member of the College may recommend someone to the Appointments Committee and the Principal to be considered for Senior Common Room membership.

B. Senior Common Room privileges are also conferred on Instructors in University College program courses during the academic year in which they teach the course(s) in question.

VI. OFFICE SPACE

Allocation of office space is the responsibility of the Principal, who may rely from time to time on the recommendations of a space task force or other duly constituted University College body.

Note: The full composition of College Council is set down in a separate document, approved by the Academic Board and Governing Council. The term “teaching staff” in section II-2 is used as in that document.
