3. Supporting letters from at least 2 faculty members familiar with your work. (Referees may submit copies of letters used for other awards, e.g. OGS.) Institution and Funding Information

As there are always more deserving students than funds, University College reserves the right to reduce the monetary value of an awarded scholarship if in its opinion the recipient has already received sufficient recognition from other sources. Winners are therefore required to notify the Registrar's Office of any other awards received.

Academic Achievement

Academic information will be provided by the Registrar's Office for each applicant.

The Committee seldom looks below a 3.00 cumulative grade point average and often exhausts the fellowships available before getting beyond the 'A' range (3.50 and up). The more open the award's terms, the more intense the competition.
